

CLEAN STREAM TEAM PROJECT

NOVEMBER 5, 2016

28 volunteers came out to help with the Clean Stream Team Project. Cub Scout Pack 57 lead by John Larken and members of the Murray Environmental Student Society of Murray State University all helped to make this a successful clean up.

The City of Murray partnered with Rhoda Lamb of the NRCS and Maggie Morgan of the JPF and Four Rivers Basin Team. The NRCS provided trash grabbers, gloves, rubber boots, and TVA trash bags. The JPF and Four Rivers Basin Team provided safety vests and the DUMP NO WASTE stencils.

Here are some of the participants signing Volunteer Release Waiver forms that were approved by the City Attorney Warren Hopkins and we also had First Aid Kits for every group to pick up at this station.

Here are the Murray Environmental Student Society of Murray State University cleaning up in front of Walmart. Way to go guys!!!

These pictures were taken off of Industrial Road and South 11th St. The Cub Scouts of Pack 57 did a great job!

We were also able to spray paint 34 drainage boxes with DUMP NO WASTE DRAINS TO RIVER stencils to promote awareness.

This is a picture of what a stream looks like after being cleaned up, the next couple slides will show you how much trash our volunteers were able to gather.

Over 15 bags of trash and miscellaneous items were collected out of 7 different sections of streams throughout our community. We sure are proud of all the hard work these volunteers put in.

This is the City of Murray's Stormwater Manager James Oakley taking a look at all the trash that was picked up. It truly shows what a community can accomplish if we all work together.
